DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to the Amendment filed January 9, 2004. Claims 1-36 were canceled and claims 37-78 are now pending, wherein claims 37-66 are drawn to a polymer product prepared in the presence of a catalyst system and claims 67-78 are drawn to the catalyst system. Claim rejection under 35 USC 112 is removed and rejection of claims 56-61 under 35 USC 102(e) as being anticipated by Kaminsky et al. (US 4,769,510) is maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. Claims 56-61 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kaminsky et al. (US 4,769,510).

The rejection is adequately set forth in paragraph 7 of Paper No. 8 and is incorporated herein by reference.

Art Unit: 1713

Response to the Amendment

4. Applicant's Amendment filed January 9, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant: "In any case, Kaminsky fails to disclose an indenyl group which is substituted with at least one hydrocarbonyl radical as set forth in applicant's independent claim 56. In this respect, the reference to substituted groups in Kaminsky is with reference to cyclopentadienyl groups and not indenyl groups. This is further reinforced by the examples in Kaminsky and the Kaminsky claims, which are directed to ethylene bis(4,5,6,7-tetrahydroindenyl)zirconium dichloride."

Examiner: it is noted that indenyl represented by $C_9R'_m$ could include tetrahydroindenyl because the formula do not include number of hydrogens. Furthermore, the present claims are drawn to the product-by-process claims. "The claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process" (emphasis added). In re Thorpe, 777 F.2d 695, 698, 227 USPQ 964,966 (Fed. Cir. 1985). And, the polymer disclosed by Kaminsky et al. is isotactic. Thus, the rejection of the present claims is maintained.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. This application contains allowable subject matter (claims 37-55 and 62-66) because the prior art of record [US 4,769,510 to Kaminsky et al. and US 4,522,982 to

Art Unit: 1713

Ewen], either alone or in combination, fails to teach or suggest the polymer product prepared in the presence of a catalyst comprising a silicon hydrocarbyl radical as the interannular bridge, the use of the silicon hydrocarbyl radical as the interannular bridge resulting in a high intrinsic viscosity and T_m compared with the use of hydrocarbyl radical as the interannular bridge. If the non-elected claims are canceled and the hereinabove rejections under 35 USC 102(e) are obviated, the application could be passed to issue.

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
